Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP) excellent...thanks and I agree with your approach on all counts (Hair-on-Fire person, people following cases...).

Subject: January Rotation

Team: Here is the January rotation which reflects what is on the Confluence new chems calendar. You'll notice that I have added a hair on fire (HoF) weekly assignment which has only been given to personnel with a paucity of other new chems duties for that particular week.

. Also, you should note that I have made an effort to have the same assessors follow their respective cases from chemistry through scoping wherever possible...this is largely owing to the idea that if we are going to be developing the part Bs in house then, we are likely going to need more folks who are comfortable with doing so. For folks who are less experienced with part Bs, you will notice that I have teamed you up with a more experienced person for that assignment. In my experience, there is no substitute for experience when it comes to what we do...and given the constraints to our schedules, there is no way to gain that experience other than to roll up your sleeves and dive in. No one among us is going to let our other team members fail.
